

ENGINEERING NCFE LEVEL 1 ASSESSMENT FRAMEWORK

Standard	Criteria
Distinction +	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Will have achieved a Distinction grade for all units of the qualification demonstrating consistent work at the level of the qualification.
Distinction	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Be able to meet all the requirements as set out in the assessment criteria for each unit to a high standard. • Demonstrate mastery of appropriate processes, resources, techniques and materials. • Demonstrate an ability to undertake relevant and wide-ranging research, analysing and evaluating information to make informed judgements. • Show a detailed understanding of processes, resources, techniques and materials showing independent ideas expressed with confidence and originality. • Evidence will make cross-curricular connections showing planning, organisation and investigatory skills in a well-structured and thorough way. • Show a high degree of motivation, ability and commitment and will have been able to complete the tasks effectively in a manner far exceeding the minimum standard.
Merit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Has met all the requirements as set out in the assessment criteria for each unit to a good standard. • Demonstrate a confident level of ability in their application of knowledge and skills and will have a clear understanding of key concepts, making some links between them and giving reasons for their choices. • A clear understanding of processes, resources, techniques and materials with few errors in application. • Evidence will show planning, organisation and investigatory skills in a clear and logical way. • Be able to complete the tasks in a manner exceeding the minimum standard.
Pass	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Be able to meet all the requirements as set out in the assessment criteria for each unit. • There is some effort to apply knowledge, and will have a basic understanding of key concepts but may not be able to make links between them. • Will have a general understanding of processes, resources, techniques and materials but there may be some minor errors or one major error in application. • Will show some degree of planning, organisational and investigatory skills but may be lacking in structure. • Will have shown that they can complete the tasks to the minimum standard.
Not Yet Achieved	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Will not have met all the assessment criteria and will not have enough work or evidence of progress available to allow a valid judgement to be made.